FANTASTIC GOINGS

Pretty Boise Is Talking About Pe-destrianism That Has Its Peculiar Purposes.

Special Correspondence of the Standard. OISE, Idaho, Feb. 4.-Of the many remarkable "breaks" of the re-publican leaders in Idaho, World's Fair Commissioner J. M. Wells made the latest. It comes this time in the form of a free-for-all walking contest. Mr. Wells, not satisfied with the governor's free fandango, now proposes to put the capital to better use by opening the arena for am-bitious pedestrians in a free-for-all race. Boise's only daily paper has an article to-day headed "Wells' Bright Idea," under which occurs the following effulgent ex-

Commissioner Wells has evolved one idea that is certain to meet with popular approval. He wants to have a promenade concert in the capi-tal, to which a reasonable admission will be charged. No one could object to the use of the capital for such a purpose as the concert will be in the interest of the state. There is no reason why the concert should not be a great go both financially and socially.

The people of the state may not object to this if the state gets anything out of it. They have looked in vain to the state officers for something—nothing in particular, but anything—and the response is a leap-year ball and the promise of a brilliant feat in pedestrianism.

Cold weather continues. The snow still covers the earth and great fear is enter-tained that unusually heavy loss of horses and cattle will result throughout the stock regions of Idaho.

The people of Idaho are still inquiring by what authority the prison reservation was invaded by private citizens and valu-able rock taken therefrom. The state authorities said the convicts needed exercise, but this does not account for the property of the state being purloined by private individuals for private purposes. The law says: "The prison board shall have authority to use the labor of the convicts in the erection of a wall around the penitentiary buildings and grounds and such other im-provements and repairs to said buildings and grounds as they may deem proper and necessary, and to perform any other labor in and about the penitentiary or penitentiary grounds or lands." Now the humblest citizen in Idaho can see the intent of this very plain and simple pro-vision. It is as clear as crystal that the state's convicts were not to be used by private individuals at all. It is charged that the commissioners hired convicts out to private individuals to go openly on the prison grounds and take from the state some of the finest building stone on the BOZEMAN'S FINE BUILDINGS. The New Opera House and City Hall and the Hotel Bozeman.

Special Correspondence of the Standard. BOZEMAN, Feb. 5.—Montana, after passing its majority beyond the reach of the great interior arteries of commerce, has in a few short years made remarkable strides in the upbuilding of her cities and towns, some of which, still in the infancy of their growth, will bear comparison with the older commonwealths of the Missis-sippi states and even the still older East.

Every edifice of note erected in any of her towns, whether public or private, be-comes an adornment and source of honor to the state, in which every citizen should feel a just pride, and in which local jeal-ousies should have no part.

Bozeman, in her opera house and city ball building and her new hotel, has added to the architectural wealth of the state of ontana, and both may be pointed out a evidences of our general material prosperity as well as the high standard of our

In point of size as well as beauty and convenience in design and finish, they are fully equal to anything to be found in any town of equal size and similarity of surroundings in any part of the country.

The Bozeman opera house was opened to the public in July, 1890. It is a two story brick building, plain in design, with lofty tower in the center. The opera house occupies the entire upper part of the structure and bas a possible capacity of 1,000, but with scats at present for 700, The stage is spacious and well lighted and is fitted up with the very latest designs of scenery and apparatus, the dressing rooms being convenient to it from below. A large orchestra pit supplies room for the usual full number of instruments.

The auditorium is seated with the new leather upholstered tilting chairs, and is divided into parquet and dress circle, while a large and comfortable gallery sur-rounds all. The decorations are in fresco in neutral colors. The lower portion of the structure is used by the fire department and contains the council chamber. jail and various officers of the city gov-ernment. W. W. Livingston is the efficient manager.

Directly opposite the opera house building stands the Hotel Bozeman. This is a handsome three-story brick edifice, also plain in design, trimmed with stone cornices. It was opened March 2, 1891. The hotel contains 77 guest chambers, every one being a front room, with eight suites having baths in connection. It has two spacious, well-lighted sample rooms, There are public baths open at all hours for the use of guests, and a steam laundry from which clothing can be sent out within 24 hours. Elegant parlors open upon the front, with balconies accessible, The office is in the center and is roomy and convenient, with tiled floor and reading room and bar and billiard rooms adjoining. The dining room, as ordinarily arranged, has a seating capacity for 26 people, but can be to accommodate nearly 200, The hotel has its own independent electric light plant and steam heat, and is pro-vided with passenger and freight elevators propelled by water power. The return call system or ennunciator is used, and there is also a fire alarm in every hall, while the width of the stair cases make egress easy in case of fire. The Western Union telegraph office is in the reading room of the building, open during business hours, Covered backs and busses meet all trains with adequate facilities for baggage trans-portation. George W. Wakefield & Co. are lessees and C. W. Delvey manager. The latter has been long, well and favorably known in connection with the hotel serv vices of the National park.

PARK COUNTY NEWS.

Doings in the District Court at Living-ston-The Cooke City Railroad.

Special Correspondence of the Standard.

LIVINGSTON, Feb. 5.—Joseph Delaney was examined as to his sanity Tuesday afternoon, the jury returning a verdict of insanity. Last Thursday Delaney was found in the Gallatin valley with his throat cut and a deep gash in his breast. He was taken to Bozeman and an investigation made, when it was found that the wounds were self inflicted and that he was men-tally afflicted. He was brought to this city for examination, as his residence was in this county, and on Wednesday was taken to the Warm Springs asylum by Sheriff Templeton.

Judge Henry rendered a decision in the case of the state of Montana vs. James George Monday, finding the defendant guilty and imposing a fine of $25 and costs upon him. George, or "Yankee Jim," as he is more familiarly called, was arrested some time ago on complaint of the county attorney for charging excessive toll on his road, which leads to the National park. The case was submitted to the court on an agreed statement of facts, the attorneys for the defendant claiming that his was not a toll road and that the commissioner had no right to regulate the toll on this particular road. The court held that it was a toll road, and that as such the commissioners had the right to regulate the price to be charged by him, and that he had no right or authority to charge in excess of the schedule fixed by them for toll roads in this county.

At the meeting held at the club room last week to consider the proposition of Frederick Carr to erect a smelter at this place, a committee of seven was appointed to look into the matter.

A Cooke City railroad meeting was held at the court house Wednesday evening and was well attended by the business men. George T. Chambers was chosen president of the meeting and George Al-derson secretary. The object of the meeting may be inferred from the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of seven be a committee of seven be selected by the meeting to solicit aid in selecting a committee of not less than five citizens of Park county to go to Washington for the purpose of furthering a railroad bill to Cooke City.

The committee, which is composed of W. E. Thompson, G. T. Chambers, Alva Mayne, George Alderson, C. S. Hefferlin, A. L. Love and Rober: Livingston, met. to-day and selected the following gentle-men to go to Washington: A. R. Joy, W. E. Thompson. I. Orschel, Judge Savage, George L. Carey. George Alderson, F. A. Krieger, George H. Wright, John T. Smith, A. J. Cambbell and Judge Henry. Several members of the committee have signified their intention of going and have agreed to pay their own expenses, and before long a strong delegation will be at the capital to work for Colonel Sander's segregation bill.

DILLON NEWS.

Prospects of a Flouring Mill Being Built -City Council Meeting. Special to the Standard.

DILLON, Feb. 5.-John F. Cowan of Butte was in the city on Monday and investi-gated the prospects for building a flouring mill. He wants the citizens to subscribe $10,000 and the probabilities are that the required sum will be raised. The mill is to have a daily capacity of 75 barrels and will be run by water power furnished by the new water works company.

The Fair and Racing association is settling down to work in earnest. At the last meeting of the board W. O. Gibson was engaged to draw plans for the different buildings. As soon as the plans are accepted the contracts will be let. Laurin T. Jones, deputy county clerk and recorder, has resigned his office and accepted a position in Poindexter Bros.

At the meeting of the city council last Wednesday night, the water works and electric light franchises furnished the principal topic of discussion. Mr. Cowan, the holder of the franchises, discovered that the manner in which the time for filing his bonds was extended was illegal, and be consequently asked the council to reenact franchises. After much discussion the franchises were enacted the second time, and Mr. Cowan given until March to file new bonds. The council is not in a triffing mood, and the members declare that they will not stand any more dilatory tactics if the new bond is not filed by March 1.

During the past week two new demo cratic clubs were organized in Bannack and Argenta respectively. The Bannack club has a membership of 35, with the fol-lowing officers: Dr. J. S. Meade, president: F. L. Graves, vice president: Ed Randolph, secretary: and A. F. Wright, treasurer. The Argenta club contains 23 members, with the following officers: Thomas H. Fox, president; John Carnes, vice president; George French, secretary, and Thomas J. Law, treasurer. The democracy of old Beaverhead is thoroughly organized, and looks forward to the pend-ing campaign with much confidence.

BILLINGS BRIEFLETS.

Appointment of M. G. Mains to the Postmastership-The City Charter.

Special Correspondence of the Standard.
BILLINGS, Feb. 5.—The expected news of the appointment of M. G. Mains to the Billings postoffice reached here this week and gives general satisfaction. The present incumbent of the office, Charles A. Wustum, has made an exceedingly good record during the four years he has held the office, and leaves it with the best wishes of the community for his future prosperity. He reflected credit on the administration of Grover Cleveland, who appointed him. That Mr. Mains will do as well is the wish of all.

The citizens of Billings have about concluded that the special act under which they are incorporated is not so good as the general law. So the city council, in compliance with a petition very generally signed by the business men. on Tuesday evening at their regular session instructed the clerk to call an election of citizens on March 5 to vote on the question. It is believed the reincorporation will carry, as no opposition has so far been developed.
